DEDICATION

THERE ARE few years more crucial in shaping the course of individual destiny than those which span the golden days of high school. We, the Senior Class of Southern Pines, feel most fortunate in the wise counsel and patient understanding of the people whose presence has given our golden years a truly golden meaning. In testimony of our gratitude and appreciation we humbly dedicate this initial Senior Issue of The Hi-Times to —

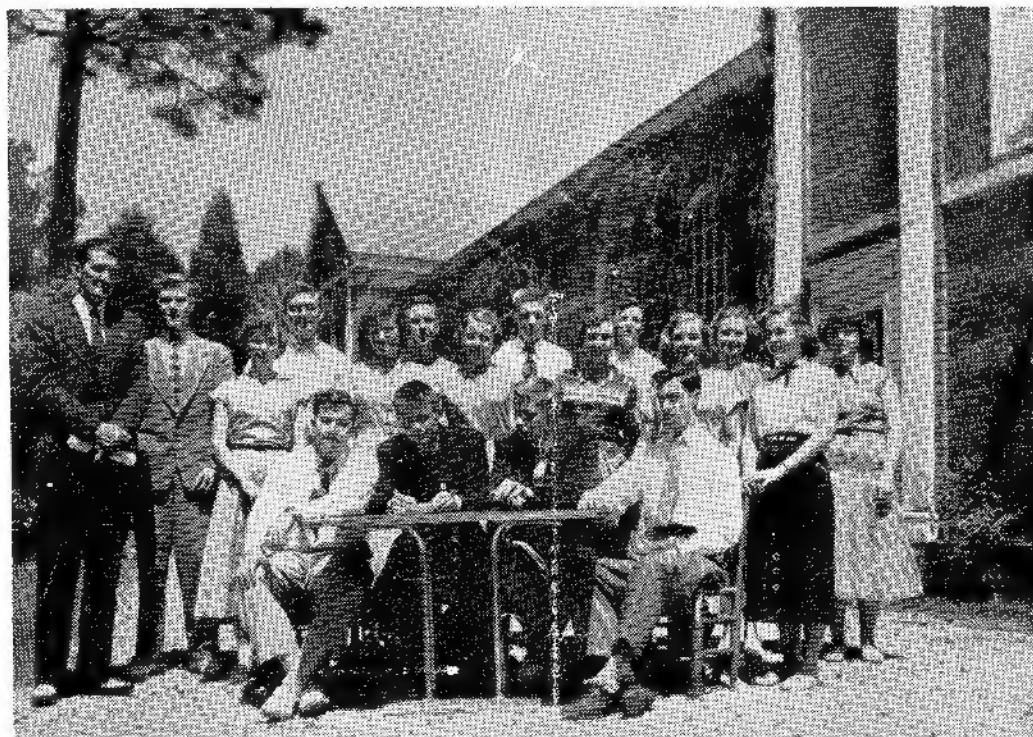

MR. J. G. WOMBLE
MR. JUNE PHILLIPS
MISS PAULINE MILLER
MR. A. C. DAWSON, JR.
MR. P. J. WEAVER

SOUTHERN PINES HIGH SCHOOL

Southern Pines, North Carolina

PRESENTS THIS, the initial Senior issue of The Hi-Times, to the student body for approval or disapproval. We hope it pleases you and if so, then we are happy. Herein we have tried to picture faithfully the story of the members of the Class of 1951, as individuals and in their respective activities. If we have failed, our much labor accepts only the censure merited of inability. If we have succeeded, we seek no praise, we desire no commendation — we have only accomplished that which we set out to do.

THE OLD AND THE NEW

Nature beautifying the classic walls of a building where cluster golden memories.

Newly constructed gym and Weaver Auditorium—"Fling wide the Blue and White, O sing aloud her praises."

THE ADMINISTRATION

MR. A. C. DAWSON
(incoming superintendent)

The Hi-Times welcomes our new chief, a state leader in the fight for better public education and one who has contributed immeasurable service to our alma mater.

MISS MARY GRACE McDONALD
Secretary

MR. P. J. WEAVER
(outgoing superintendent)

The Hi-Times bids farewell to a man who exemplified in his own life the Christian ideals for which he stood and whose abilities have brought him renewed distinction.

The Faculty

M e m o r i e s

Our days at Southern Pines School will always be remembered by the Class of Nineteen Fifty-one. They have been glorious days, filled with happiness and sometimes hard work, but always pleasant because of the enjoyment we received in the fellowship of our schoolmates and teachers. We will always remember the happy days we spent down at the old Baptist Church, where we began our school adventure. We will always swell with pride when we recall that we have known such magnificent personalities as Mr. P. J. Weaver and Mr. A. C. Dawson. We remember our happiness and pride at seeing our school expand and enlarge its facilities in the form of a new Elementary School, Auditorium, Cafeteria, and Gymnasium. We will always remember the thrill and excitement of the football games and our exaltation at seeing our teams succeed.

Now that all our ties as students at SPHS are broken forever, we would like to give a final word of advice to the students who remain. First of all, take pride in your school, support it to your fullest to keep it the best school in all the world. Obey your faculty members and administration, whose only thoughts are designed to help you to become a good citizen and prepare you to make a place for yourself in the world. Support your Student Council and its officers, for they are there to serve you. Support all your organizations, for all their activities are worthwhile. All this may sound strange coming from us, who are so little older than you, but now that we are out of school, we realize that we could have done more for SPHS and are sorry that we did not.

With this final word of advice, we leave to you who remain the job of keeping our school the wonderful place that it is and making it even better, and with this word we say farewell to our glorious days at SPHS.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the illustrious Senior Class of 1951, being in comparatively sane mind and body, considering the current chaotic times, and feeling that the time is drawing nigh when we will be apart from our closest underclassmen, on whom we feel we must bestow our best—that they may carry on our sacred and highly treasured talents and traditions to full use in the years to come, do hereby set down our desires as to the distribution of our most outstanding endowments, entitlements and idiosyncrasies as follows:

Deirdre Dundas leaves her calm sophistication and English charm to Sylvia McLeod, whom we wouldn't recognize if she used it.

Carol Sue Humphrey leaves to Barbara Page and Barbara Peterson her flirtations and high-male requirements for furtherance of the cause.

Ann Carter leaves to Shirley Warren and Bertha Maude Ramsey her love of studying, especially shorthand.

Peggy Mason leaves her ability for writing notes, her liking for certain people, and her firm loyalties to Joan Beasley, whom she feels most capable of understanding them.

Catherine Hussey leaves her love of talking, her ability to keep abreast with the news and her "crush-per-week" average to Shirley Stuart, who is most in practice to handle them.

Dorothy Swisher leaves her never-failing calm, sweet personality to Barbara Guin and Betty Dupree, neither of whom really need it, but both of whom we're sure will use it.

Betty Jo Bowden leaves the care of the office in the hands of Betty Jean Caddell.

Reg Newbon leaves his well-worn eighth grade snow shovel to Margaret Bailey and Dick Mattocks, both of whom are in bad need of it.

D. P. Black leaves the Drive-In theatre and his knowledge of a movie projector to Charles Baker, who is already learning fast.

Frank Harrington and Marshall Palmer leave to Pete Raptas their ability to heckle teachers, with special regard to practice teachers.

Bill Cook leaves his endless knowledge of any known subject, especially Government, to Doris Bowles with hopes that she'll have a say more often.

Gene Poc leaves his famed red truck to Charles Merrill, thinking maybe it's transportation he needs.

Duke Whiting leaves WEEB to Suzanne Burns, since she made such a good "Mystery Tune Announcer."

Bill Welborn leaves "Hi-Times" to Alex McLeod with order to keep the presses running.

Dick Ray leaves the running of the school to Pete Dana with pity for her.

Bill Horner leaves his love of basketball to Betty Jane Worsham and asks for a minimum of 20 points per game.

Albert Crissman leaves his volume in Glee Club to Phyllis Hoskins, who'll need it with her solos.

Richard Newton leaves his "lady-killing" ability to Bill Hurst, with special regard to freshmen.

Coy Bowers and Eugene Lee leave their places in the National Guard to Edgar Smith, who'll soon be needing to dodge Uncle Sam.

Bobby Stuart leaves the school buses and all the trips to Carthage to Franklyn Johnson and Paul Williams—may they skip half their classes, too!

Gerald Thomas leaves his love of new "Chevvies" to Roy Newton, saying only, "Keep 'em polished!"

Jerry Van Camp leaves his never-failing tardiness to Louise Dorn, since they've raced the bells together so often.

Martin Ramsey just leaves, and you know where to—Canada, of course, and hunting.

Duly witnessed and signed this 4th day of May, 1951.

CATHERINE HUSSEY, Scribe.
